Columbus-Kansas City. Not scheduled. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ST. PAUL, Minn., May 6.-Indianapolis was clearly outplayed to-day. In fielding, batting and in the work of the pitching department, the Saints were far in the lead. Hogriever was the only Hoosier to cross

Chech was in superb form and held the Phillipinos down to three hits. Chech had asked Manager Kelley for a chance to retrieve his bumps received at the hands of Indianapolis earlier in the season.

Allemang, an ex-Saint, was pitted against Chech and, although he tried his best, nothing could stem the tide of the champions' inning Allemang won the sympathy of the crowd when he was struck in the stomach by a hot single pounded out by Marcan. It doubled him up and rolled him over the ground, but he rose pluckily and threw to second in time to retire a man. The Saints played together better than even in the days of the 1903 championship. They displayed the ginger of colts and the Hoosiers sin ply could not make a break for victory. The game was too one-sided to be interesting. Marcan got four singles and Kelley three passes during the game. a concert at Lennon field. The 1903 pennant was hoisted by President Grillo and President Lennon, assisted by Mayor The Hoosiers secured their only score in the sixth, when Hogriever reached first on O'Brien's fumble. Errors and fast work by Hogriever sent the run over the plate that saved Indianapolis from a shut-out. St. Paul bunched hits in the first, fifth and seventh. The Hoosiers were handicapped in fielding by the fact that the crowd serged on to the field in right garden and hampered the fielders. This was responsible directly for no runs, but it discomfited the visiting fielders. Allemang, Hogriever and Heydon were given tremendous receptions by the St. Faul fans, among whom they are favorites. Score:

FAST TRACK MEET EXPECTED AT PURDUE

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 6.-The Indiana University track team goes to Lafayette to-morrow for its dual meet with Purdue. While the Indiana team is much stronger than usual this year, the reports from the Boiler Makers' camp indicate that they, too, have a better team than ever before, and one of the fastest meets ever held in the State is the probable result. The Indiana team is crippled by the loss of Barclay in the distance runs and Sampse in the pole-vault and high jump. Martin and Shideler, of the Indiana team, are considered as certain to win their events. The following men will compete on the Indiana team: Wallace, Martin, Banks, Johnson, Hornaday, Shideler, Ray, Hickam, Maxwell, Sampse, Pingry, Ogden, Matthews and Thompson.

HOW DIVINITY HAS STOOPED.

Remarkable Diminution of Royal Prerogative by Japanese Rule.

Kansas City Star. . Throughout the last generation Europe and America have been blind witnesses of one of the most remarkable episodes in history. They have seen a descendant of the share in the government. Within their view a divinity has deliberately divested himself of his prerogatives and has fairly provide dried beef and smoked ham, to forced the protection of written laws upon a reluctant nation. But they have thought no more of his transformation in Japan than they have of the institution of representative government in Bulgaria or Cuba. The trouble has been in their failure to appreciate the Oriental standpoint. The Mikado in Japan is more than the Pope in Italy. His person is sacred—so the ashes in the winter. And she says in conclusion: his name by using it on a public document. The divinity that doth hedge a king in Europe is nothing compared to the sanctity that surrounded Mutsuhito when he ascended the throne of the gods. For the fireside we gathered to read, to chat, to oldest house in Europe is of yesterday by visit. Gone with the fireside and the hearth the side of the dynasty of the Mikado. are most of my dear ones with whom I According to the Japanese chronology the | knelt every day." royal line was founded soon after the ten tribes of Israel were carried into captivity, a few decades before Draco and while Rome was still a kingdom. Even the most skeptical foreign historians admit that it was in full flower when the Saxons were setting in England and while the empire of the Caesars was still governing Europe. Mutsuhito, then, can trace an unbroken line of ancestors back through twenty-live centuries to the time when the forefathers of Hapsburgs, Bourbons and Hohenzollerns were savages of the wilderness, offering human sacrifices. His house was old when Pericles ruled Athens and when Socrates went about asking questions. It has survived the rise and fall of Alexander's empire, the conquest of Rome, the foundation of the Papacy. Through all these ages the reigning divinity has had, nominally, at least, the power of life and death over his subjects. The shoguns, for several centuries the real rulers of Japan, always sheltered themselves behind the Emperor's ab-The passionate obedience of the Oriental to his divine sovereign can hardly be imagined by the practical Occidental mind. To his subjects the ruler's death is a real calamity, far outweighing any personal sorrow, such as the loss of wife or child. Their grief is expressed by passionate mourning, whose sincerity is undoubted. The men who know the most about Japan assert that to-day nine out of ten Japanese would declare that their dearest desire was It is a sovereign of this type, unknown to Western civilization, worshiped and adored as more than human by his people, pos-sessing absolute power over their lives, their persons, their property, his prerogative sanctified by tens of centuries of unbroken lineage, who "in consideration of the progressive tendency of the course of human affairs, and in parallel with the advance of civilization," has bestowed constitutional freedom upon Japan. What monarch in European history ever made a imilar concession? The reforms of the first Edward, founder of the British constitution, were the natural fruit of years of struggle. Alexander, the Czar Liberator, contemplated giving a constitution, but the hand of compulsion was evident. From the point of view of Asia an overwhelming and bewildering movement has been going featherweight champion, has said that he on in Japan for a generation-and the

One-Half Inches in Running

Broad Jump: Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MATTOON, Ill., May 6 .- Through the individual efforts of Paul McKee the Tuscola High School to-day won the annual meet of the Eastern Illinois Interscholastic Association held in this city.

Owing to the poor condition of the track the records were not up to the standard of former meets. McKee made 5 feet 5 inches in the high jump, breaking his own record of 5 feet 4 inches, and Crispin threw the hammer 146 feet, also breaking his own record. McKee set 20 feet 81/2 inches as a new record in the running broad jump. A summary of points follows: Tuscola, 34; Paris, 29; Charleston, 18; Sullivan, 11; Windsor, 9; Shelbyville, 8; Mattoon, 7; Oakland, 5; Arcola, 4; Toledo, 1.

McKee, who is only a sophomore, made wenty-three points for his team and broke two records, being easily the star of the day. Summary of events: Fifty-yard dash: Storm (Shelbyville), first; Goodson (Tuscola), second. Time, :06. Half-mile run: Dayton (Paris), first; Nichols (Charleston), second. Time, 2:25.
